Key Takeaways from the Quarter:

- The majority of Specialty Manufacturing sub-sectors (Metal Processing Services, Engineered Components, Diversified Industrials and Electronic Manufacturing Services) outperformed the S&P 500 Index, while Manufacturing & Engineering Services was the only sub-sector to post negative quarterly returns.
- Global Specialty Manufacturing M&A deal volume dipped to 308 deals in Q1'16 from 283 in Q4'15; similarly, disclosed deal value dropped 25% over the same period ($11.5 billion to $8.6 billion).
- U.S. Specialty Manufacturing M&A deal volume in Q1'16 experienced a small decline to reach 93 deals from Q4'15, while disclosed deal value in Q1'16 plunged 22% (from $4.0 billion to $3.1 billion in Q4'15).
- U.S. Middle Market M&A deal volume inched 17% to 28 deals in Q1'16 from 24 in Q4'15. Also, disclosed deal value rose 61% quarter-over-quarter.
- Like Q4'15, there were also two large deals in Q1'16 with deal value greater than $1 billion globally.
- Strategic acquirers accounted for almost 86% of deal volume in Q1'16.
- One of the most notable deal announcements in Q1'15 was KKR's $1.2 billion acquisition of Airbus Group (Defence Electronics Business).

Review of Selected Aerospace & Defense Transactions in Q1

Multi-Fineline Electronix to acquire Suzhou Dongshan Precision Manufacturing for $621M EV, which implied 0.64x LTM Revenue and 4.7x LTM EBITDA.

- Acquisition will position MFLEX as a large manufacturing conglomerate, which will also open new market opportunities for its flexible printed circuit and assembly solutions, further supporting the company's long-term growth outlook.
- Acquisition will expand MFLEX's brand and leadership in the mobility space, while accelerating market opportunities in the automotive, industrial, display and other fast-growing consumer segments.

Headquartered in Suzhou, China, Suzhou Dongshan Precision Manufacturing designs, manufactures and supplies precision sheet metal components for base stations worldwide. The Company offers its products for smart devices, precision machines, precision castings and semiconductors, as well as communications, LED lighting, building and energy applications.

J. F. Lehman & Company to acquire API Technologies for $303M EV, which implied 1.30x LTM Revenue and 14.9x LTM EBITDA.

- Acquisition will provide API Technologies an improved liquidity and capital structure, needed to execute on various business improvement and growth plans; creating a stronger business for its customers and employees.

Headquartered in Orlando, FL, API Technologies designs, develops and manufactures systems, subsystems, modules and components for radio frequency (RF) microwave, millimeterwave, electromagnetic, power and security applications. The Company operates in three segments: Systems, Subsystems and Components (SSC); Electronic Manufacturing Services (EMS) and Secure Systems and Information Assurance (SSIA). The Company primarily serves to defense, commercial, industrial and non-defense government markets in the United States, United Kingdom, Canada, China, Germany and internationally.

Mercury Systems to acquire Microsemi's RF Integrated Solutions for $300M EV, which implied 3.00x LTM Revenue and 10.7x LTM EBITDA.

- Acquisition will position Mercury as the defense industry's largest commercial embedded secure processing company and add secure solid-state storage to its array of industry-leading, pre-integrated processing subsystems capabilities.
- Acquisition will provide Mercury new capabilities in embedded security and mixed signal system-on-chip processing.

Headquartered in Orlando, FL, Microsemi Corporation designs, manufactures and markets analog and mixed-signal semiconductor solutions in the United States, Europe and Asia. The Company offers analog mixed-signal integrated circuits; field programmable gate arrays; system on chip solutions and application-specific integrated circuits; power management products and timing and synchronization devices and precise time solutions.

Review of Selected Aerospace & Defense Transactions in Q1

Albany International to acquire Blue Falcon I for $210M EV, which implied 2.73x LTM Revenue.

- Combination will create a major force in aerospace composites, which should be able to realize significant new long-term growth opportunities.
- Acquisition would have been justifiable on a stand-alone basis given the division's growth potential, and each division has the capability to realize its respective growth potential on its own.

Headquartered in Melbourne, FL, Blue Falcon is a supplier of advanced composite products primarily for airframe applications. The company has significant positions on three major growth platforms: Lockheed's Joint Strike Fighter (JSF), Boeing's 787 and Sikorsky's CH-53K. It also supplies the vacuum waste tanks for most of Boeing's 7-Series aircraft and components of the airframe of a Lockheed Martin family of air-to-surface missiles.

American Air Filter to acquire Flanders Holdings for $430M EV, which implied 1.44x LTM Revenue.

- Deal will enable American Air Filter to leverage Flander's global sales network to market the cleanroom equipment and high-end air filter products, which will make it a leading manufacturer in the largest air filter market.
- Combination will also improve air environments in homes, buildings and factories; better address global environmental issues, including mitigating air pollution and meeting the increasing need of creation of comfortable air environments worldwide.

Headquartered in Washington, NC, Flanders Holdings is a leading manufacturer of air filters in the US, particularly products with high functionality and high value-add, which are used in industrial cleanrooms in the pharmaceutical and food processing industries. The Company offers products for commercial to residential use and has a nationwide sales network. Its manufacturing bases are near most major US cities, including Chicago and New York.

Aegion acquired Underground Solutions for $85M EV. Valuation was not disclosed.

- Acquisition allows Aegion's Insituform and Tyfo / Fibrwrap customer solutions to complement by Underground Solution's patented PVC pipe and pipe fusing technologies, which will enable Aegion to further advance its strategy and expand in the trenchless pressure pipe rehabilitation market.
- Combination creates a more effective and less disruptive alternative to significantly reduce water loss in aging pipeline infrastructure.

Headquartered in Poway, CA, Underground Solutions provides infrastructure technologies for water, sewer and conduit applications. The Company offers Fusible PVC, which provides a monolithic, fully-restrained, gasket-free and leak-free piping system; Duraliner, a unique patented technology for pipeline renewal resulting in a standalone structural lining; ServiceGuard, a composite pipe that combines the performance benefits of CPVC with the strength and durability of metal to offer water service line pipe. The Company's products are used in water, sewer, electrical, industrial and telecommunications industries.

Review of Selected Industrial Machinery Transactions in Q1

Hitachi Metals America acquired HTP-Meds, Hi-Tech Machine & Fabrication for $84M EV. Valuation was not disclosed.

- Acquisition of HTP-Meds companies will expand capabilities of Hitachi Metals solutions in the medical cable segment, while complementing the significant ultrasound diagnostic cable and assembly business Hitachi Metals now enjoys with major OEM customers.
- Combination expands its medical tubing business in North America and also targets growing health care opportunities in other global markets, with a view towards achieving sustainable mid-term and long-term growth.

Headquartered in Ashaway, RI, HTP Meds offers solutions for medical tubing applications and products. The Company designs, develops and manufactures medical tubing products. The Company's medical tubing applications and products include PORTs, PICCs, dilators, multi-lumen tubes, multi-layer tubes and catheters. Hi-Tech Machine and Fabrication fabricates and manufactures custom machined components for aerospace, defense and medical markets. The Company offers precision molds for the plastic blow molding industry and precision machined components, downstream extrusion equipment, extrusion tooling and precision machined parts for use in defense and aerospace industries.

Ascent Aerospace acquired Gemcor for $44M EV. Valuation was not disclosed.

- Combination of the complementary capabilities and technologies of Gemcor and Ascent will broaden Ascent's ability to offer new solutions across the combined customer base.
- Acquisition to bring synergy in the areas of controls engineering and robotics and foresee an excellent cultural fit with its existing businesses.

Headquartered in West Seneca, NY, Gemcor II designs, manufactures and installs aircraft assembly automation machinery and positioning and fastening systems for manufacturing industries worldwide. The Company offers wing fastening systems, fuselage fastening systems, nacelle systems, pendulum head fastening systems, rotary head systems, high speed linear heads, high upset force heads, robot solutions, farnham counter sinkers and farnham rolls, as well as manual, semi-automatic, fully automatic CNC and robotic positioning systems.

Kyocera to acquire SGS Tool Company. Valuation was not disclosed.

- Acquisition will expand Kyocera's lineup with solid tools and create a structure capable of providing total solutions with further added value solutions to customers.
- Acquisition to add new manufacturing and sales sites with Kyocera, which will further strengthen and expand its cutting tool business in North America.

Headquartered in Munroe Falls, OH, SGS Tool designs, engineers, manufactures and delivers solid carbide rotary cutting tools. The Company offers end mills for various applications and burs for foundries and castings, mold and die, and turbine manufacturing and repair applications. The Company also provides precision solid carbide drills; solid carbide routers; tool coatings; reamers and jig boring tools; key seat cutters; saws and countersinks and internal grinding tools.

Rockwell Automation acquired MagneMotion. Valuation was not disclosed.

- Acquisition to complement Rockwell Automation's iTRAK to create the broadest portfolio of independent cart solutions in this emerging technology area.

Headquartered in Devens, MA, MagneMotion develops and manufactures linear synchronous motor products and systems used in assembly automation, material handling and transportation applications. The Company offers LSM propulsion and control systems; heavy-duty LSM-based solutions for material handling and transport of various loads, such as gantry systems, cargo load / unload systems, ore and bulk material transport systems, commercial elevators, and vertical lifts and fault-tolerant controls.

Aalberts Industries to acquire Ushers Machine & Tool. Valuation was not disclosed.

- Acquisition to strengthen Aalberts's position in the end market by combining high grade technologies and excellent service, close to their Key Accounts.

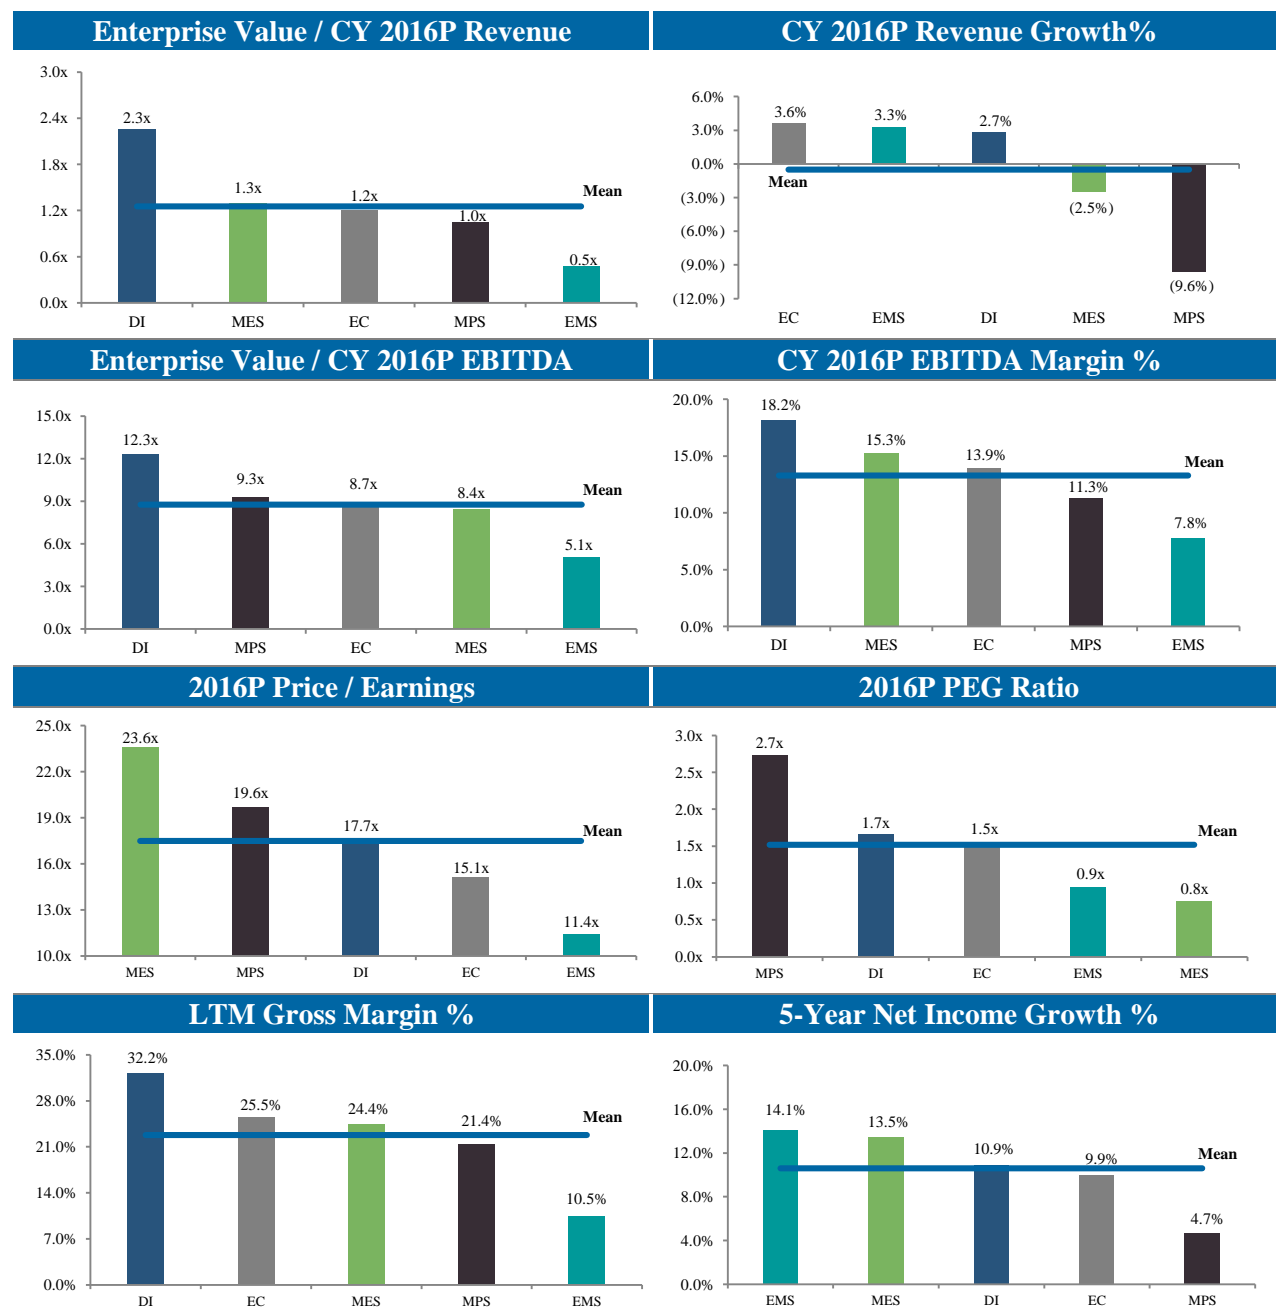

Headquartered in Round Lake, NY, Ushers Machine & Tool engages in precision machining, welding, assembly and testing. The Company offers manufacturing services, including certified boiler and pressure vessel welding and fabrication, electro-mechanical assembly, NIST calibrated air and liquid flow testing, sandblasting and paint shop, as well as precision multi-axis CNC machining, turning, milling and broach and gun drilling and support services, such as manufacturing / sales engineering, CAD/CAM and CNC programming, CMM inspection with SPC analysis and optical comparator services.
